ONLINE COURSE

WHY SHOULD I PARTICIPATE?

Trade around the clock

The foreign exchange market, or forex, is open for business 24 hours a day. This means you can trade on your schedule, not your broker's.

Discover forex, the world's largest market

Daily trading volume reaches $2.5 trillion, 46 times the size of all other equity markets combined. Increased volume means more flexibility and liquidity with less volatility.

Pay no commissions

With many dealers, there are no commission costs when you buy or sell a currency pair contract. The only costs involve the difference between buy and sell prices.

Global opportunities abound

Take advantage of the many international events that affect exchange rates: trade deficits and surpluses, weather, interest rate increases, political changes and so on.

Tools that fit your trading style

Learn how to use Web-based tools that you can customize to meet your needs, whether you're a beginner or already have a strong trading strategy. Become part of an online community. Get insight, exchange ideas and connect online with other investors.

Learn anytime, anywhere

The online course format allows you to control when and where you learn. Work at your own pace and incorporate learning into your life style.
